

other buses arrive on June 12, July 1 and August 1, respectively.

has funded the construction of more than 100 grants to Democratic cities across the country, including New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Denver, Philadelphia, as part of his protest against immigration policies. So far, he's raised $1 million in donations to help fund the transfer of jurisdiction to the governor's office.

Man shot and on mountain highway

VIVES

San Diego Police Department said Saturday it is investigating an armed robbery that left a man on Angeles Crest Highway.

The shooting was reported at 3:21 a.m. Saturday. Santa Ana California Highway Patrol officers came upon the vehicle accident at 28.36 on Angeles Highway, according to a statement from the Police Department.

Officers found an unregistered man. A female passenger was also in the vehicle.

Officers performed life-saving measures on the male victim, who had been shot in the chest; he was later pronounced dead at the scene. The woman was not injured.

A sketch of highway is available, and police detectives in the city were at the scene, the state police said. The detectives are still looking for the motive for the shooting, which was robbery. The victim was identified as the victim, Munoz, 32, of San Diego.

The department provided further details about the shooting.

man's identity as 20-year-old Sawyer Walden Allee, who refused to provide officers with address information and appeared to be unhoused.

Brock said he asked Allee if he could throw the papers in the trash, to which Allee allegedly responded with expletives. Brock then went over to throw the papers in the trash. Allee confronted Brock, who said he was a Santa Monica City Council member. Allee allegedly tried to take Brock's hat and threw a clear liquid on Brock and his partner. Brock said he was also pushed "several times."

Brock and Boole each called 911, Brock said. Allee then took Brock's sunhat and stumbled and fell to the ground. Brock ended up holding Allee's head down and yelled at a custodian to man's identity as 20-year-old Sawyer Walden Allee, who refused to provide officers with address information and appeared to be unhoused. alert a public safety officer. Santa Monica police then arrived and took Allee into custody.

Allee faces battery and theft charges, said Santa Monica Police Department spokesperson Erika Aklufi. He was issued a citation per Los Angeles County bail rules, and a court date was set for August.

Brock said the middle finger on his right hand was sprained but that he didn't sustain any "drastic" injuries. He didn't know how his finger was sprained but said he assumed it was during the confrontation.

"I hate to say this but bottom line is that if it wasn't me, it could've been someone who wasn't able to react as calmly as I did," he said. "I didn't lose control even after he had pushed me several times."

Brock said that Allee was placed on a 5150 hold, which allows an adult undergoing a mental health crisis to be involuntarily detained for 72 hours to assess whether they're a danger to themselves or others.

"It's not compassionate to let people lie on the streets and die," Brock said.

"At the same time, as a city, we need to be compassionate to our residents who've paid taxes, who paid to have what they hope [are] safe streets, bike routes to walk and drive and bicycle, and we spend a lot on a downtown where we're suffering from vacancies partly because of homelessness."

city to manage the downtown area, voted last month to proceed with an initiative to hire a private security company to deploy unarmed but uniformed security personnel on the Third Street Promenade. The Santa Monica City Council will vote this week on whether the company, Covered 6, can be hired.

Brock said that, although there is already a private security company patrolling the promenade, Covered 6, which also patrols Beverly Hills, works with the police, has bulletproof vests and marked cars, and is composed of former police and military members.

"The hope is that they're much better trained than normal private security," he added, "and trained in both homelessness help outreach as well as security."

tional charges and defendant's premeditation," Senior Deputy Dist. Atty. Amber Lee said in the release. "The amended complaint reflects that evidence."

The crash that occurred just outside Westlake High School was the culmination of a rampage that allegedly began earlier that day when Eis entered a Walmart in Simi Valley, authorities said.

Eis pepper-sprayed and stabbed one employee, assaulted another and lunged at two other employees with a knife, prosecutors said.

Eis fled the Walmart and drove to a Camarillo home where he forced his way inside, authorities said. He eventually drove to Westlake High School, where he struck Wesley and three other students.

He is being held without bail.

JAY L. CLENDENIN Los Angeles Times

WHERE SOULS TAKE FLIGHT

L.A. trio Tres Souls, with Roberto Carlos, left, Rocio Libertad and Jesus Martinez, play at Los Angeles International Airport's Tom Bradley International Terminal on Friday as part of "LAX Presents," a monthly performance series staged across terminals.