

Construction Hot Topics

Week of June 20, 2022

1. Terminal 4: Construction Update

- Construction on Terminal 4 continues as part of both the Terminal 4.5 Cores project as well as American Airlines' Terminal 4 / 5 Modernization Program
- The east half of the Terminal 4 headhouse is undergoing demolition to facilitate building of the new terminal
- On the Arrivals Level, this work has cause baggage claim to relocate to the former Federal Inspection Station (FIS) area toward the western end of the terminal and on the Departures Level, some ticket counters have also moved to the western end of the terminal
- Some gates in Terminal 4 will be closed while construction on the concourse is underway; guests should use caution when travelling around construction areas and always check posted signage for detour routes and information

Construction of the Terminal 4.5 Core building continues; temporary pedestrian walkways remain on both levels detouring pedestrians into one of the inner roadway lanes

Terminal 4 Baggage Claim has relocated to the western end of the terminal (former FIS area)

Photos courtesy of LAX Public Relations

Change is in the Air(port).

LAX WAY BETTER. REALLY.

Construction Hot Topics

Week of June 20, 2022

2. Consolidated Rent-A-Car Facility: Construction Milestones

- Earlier this month, construction on the ConRAC Facility as part of the Landside Access Modernization Program (LAMP) reached two major milestones:
 - More than four million work hours were surpassed since construction began in 2019
 - Successful hand over of a portion of the facility to the future rental car tenants so they may build out their individual customer spaces
- The ConRAC, which has its final concrete pour nearly one year ago in July 2021, will consolidate the rental car operations that are currently spread across a large area around LAX into one central location
- Scheduled to open for operations in 2023, the ConRAC will also provide direct access to the LAX Automated People Mover when the train system opens

An aerial view of the ConRAC Facility, located next to the 405 Freeway

The rental car tenants that will operated at the ConRAC have started to build out their customer services spaces marking a major construction milestone

Change is in the Air(port).

LAX WAY BETTER. REALLY.

